School Vacation Notice!

The Regular Christmas Vacation of all Public Schools in the Kingdom, will extend from FRIDAY, the 20th of December, to TUESDAY, the 7th of January, 1890.

By order of the Board of Education.

THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

MONDAY, DEC. 2, 1889.

We have received a letter from Mr. George Norton, emphatically repudiating the engineers' ticket of "Asch, Norton, and Kaia," presented in this morning's Advertiser. The writer only stands with the "Wilson, Norton, and Boyd" ticket, and will not serve if elected on any other.

Attention was called in our news department some time ago to tramway rails projecting above the surface of the street. Since then several accidents and narrow escapes have occurred from this cause. It is contrary to the law to have the line in this condition, and the Government should have the evil remedied. In some places the road gang took the earth away from the rails in the form of mud when street-cleaning. The track should have been more substantial than would have permitted its scooping out in this manner.

Measures not men should as a rule form the burden of political discussion, but men are an important consideration when an election comes round. Now that nominating conventions are approaching, the qualifications of all possible candidates ought to be well considered. Legislators are what the country wants, not merely men able to lead many voters to the polls. Men with breadth of intelligence, clearness of convictions, fully attested public spirit, proved honesty of purpose in their dealings, and as experienced in affairs as may be obtainable, are wanted for Nobles and Representatives.

CHARITY ON SHIPBOARD.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Please publish the following letters. They speak for themselves.

JOHN F. COLBURN.
Nov. 30, 1889.

S. S. MOKOLI, HONOLULU,
Nov. 25th, 1889.

REV. FATHER WENDELIN,
Sir:—I have given to the Rev. Father Leonor to send to you this day, the sum of seventy-eight dollars and seventy cents, for the benefit of the poor sufferers at Kalawao and Kalapapa. This is a fund that was raised on board the S. S. Australia on the evening of Oct. 30, 1889, when about fifteen hundred miles from our Islands. A concert was given by the passengers on board, of which I was one, for the object above mentioned, and I was appointed the committee to forward the fund. You will please divide the same among the people as you see proper, without regard to what sect or party they may belong to, and please be kind enough to acknowledge the receipt of same.

Yours very truly,
JOHN F. COLBURN.

With the kind assistance of Mr. Meyer, Superintendent of the Settlement, the said amount will be disposed of.

I am very grateful to you and the unknown contributors for the opportunity of thanking you and them in the name of the sufferers at Molokai.

WAILUKU NOTES.

Great Independence Luncheon...Candidates for Nobles Named.

The Hawaiian Independence Day was celebrated in Wailuku as a general holiday. Great preparations had been made to insure success and the result surpassed all expectations. The weather was beautiful, and owing to the rain falling in the last days preceding, the roads were in a splendid condition, and the well-known Wailuku dust for once brought to rest. Early in the morning cavalcades of natives, decorated with leis, and the women with paus, were parading through the streets, and the crowds coming from all the outside districts indicated that something unusual was going to take place.

For weeks invitations had been sent all over the islands to invite guests to partake in the luncheon to be given in the skating rink to celebrate the day. The luncheon was given by the different political parties, standing in opposition to the present Government, and was through the day visited by over one thousand people, mostly Hawaiians, who all enjoyed the feast immensely.

Owing to the refusal of certain "missionary" plantation managers to stop work for the day the majority of the members of the Mechanics' and Workmen's Union were prevented from being present, but from each district delegates had been sent to express sympathy with the political work of the central committee.

The skating rink had been beautifully decorated with ferns and abundance of flowers under the supervision of Messrs W. H. Daniels and Ch. Brickwood. It was universally remarked that a more beautiful spread had never been seen on these islands. Seven long tables were laden down with innumerable good things to eat, and about 2 o'clock p. m. the guests sat down. From 2 o'clock to 6 o'clock the tables were occupied with people coming and going, enjoying the feast and listening to the fine music of the combined bands from Wailuku and Waikapu.

About 8 o'clock the chairman of the central committee, Hon. W. H. Daniels, gave the word to Mr. J. W. Kalua, who delivered the oration of the day. Mr. W. H. Halstead acting as interpreter. Mr. Kalua surpassed himself in regard to eloquence, and it is unnecessary to mention the amount of applause, which this time, as always, greeted him in Wailuku. He spoke feelingly about the love which every Hawaiian feels for his country; how devoted they are to the institutions and to the independence of their country, and how it is their duty to defend this against all attempts from certain parties to rob the native of his land.

He expressed the want of confidence which the citizens here feel in a Cabinet who had hatched the annexation scheme, and asked the voters to go in unity to the ballot box and send down to the Legislature men who will oppose any attempt to sell their country. He then mentioned the names of the men whom the central committee would propose to be nominated as Nobles at the coming convention. These men were: W. H. Cornwell, J. O. Carter, E. C. Macfarlane, John Richardson, W. H. Daniels, and A. C. Dowsett.

The applause and enthusiasm expressed by the mentioning of these names prevented the speaker from continuing his speech for some time. It was apparent that the natives were particularly delighted by hearing the name of Mr. Carter, whom the speaker truthfully called "the best friend of the Hawaiian race." After some few more exhorting and encouraging remarks, Mr. Kalua left the platform under cheers and applause.

Later on Mr. Kanealii, of Waibee, the eventual representative for one of the Wailuku districts, spoke strongly to the assembly, explaining the necessity of united action.

The last speaker was the delegate from the M. & W. Union in Honolulu, Mr. Thos. R. Lucas. Although a stranger in Wailuku, Mr. Lucas made so many friends that it was with difficulty that he was allowed to leave the town. He made a powerful, eloquent speech, and captured the heart of everybody present, who kept on urging him to continue his speech. He finished his speech by reading the platform of the M. & W. Union, and was thereafter bodily carried on the arms of the enthusiastic crowd, who insisted in having him standing for the next election for Wailuku, which he declined owing to previous promises to the Honolulu constituents.

This was the last speech made, but for hours the merry crowd came and partook the still abundant pork and poi. A more orderly and happy crowd can not be imagined. No liquors were allowed on the premises, but although a saloon is close by, the slate in the police court the following morning showed only one arrest for being drunk, which indeed speaks well for our community. Great credit is due to Messrs. Daniels, Kalua and Norrie, who by their superb management of the affair insured the success of the day.

KONA NOTES.

The "red eyes" epidemic reported about ten days ago, to be prevalent among the juveniles at Napoopoo, Hawaii, turned out to be measles. The disease got its work in nearly all within a few days and was of a remarkably mild type. Dr. Mack visited some twenty cases on Wednesday of last week, on which and the two following days the Napoopoo school was closed. Nearly all have recovered by this time.

The Kona "dry season," so far, has had several sprinklings of good refreshing showers which are very highly appreciated by the lantana plantations and all other interested parties. By the way, there are millions galore in the Kona lantana. An advertisement in a down east paper announces slips of lantana for sale at ten cents a slip. It seems to be considerably prized in high latitudes as a pretty pot flower for winter windows. Kona can supply 999,888,777, 666,555,444, 333,222, 111,000 of these slips at one cent per thousand, and realize money enough to macadamize all the roads on the island. A chance for enterprise, in developing home industries! Where is Mr. B. F. D. now?
